

We are looking for a Kitchen Porter for Markus Stöckle's new project

About the new Project of Markus Stöckle

Made with Love.

To host, not to judge – that is our philosophy of hospitality, shaped by an attitude that has been cultivated for centuries. We honor tradition and combine it with our experience to create a boundless culinary world together. The work within Markus Stöckle's new project will be precise, skillful, and demanding – perhaps at times even a little obsessive. We are looking for experienced individuals who understand how to meet the highest standards. Above all, however, it is about heart: about who we are and the spirit with which we welcome people. We believe in kindness, in genuine hospitality, and in individuals who make us proud the moment they enter the room.

Do you feel inspired? Then we look forward to receiving your application.

About Us

Studio ELMA is the home of Elif and Markus. Under one roof, we bring together all our restaurants and projects. We also create diverse collaborations within and beyond the gastronomy sector – nationally and internationally – working with artists, media, universities and partners. Sevgiyle yap – Do it with love. Gül is the restaurant of Elif Oskan. Here, we believe in true hospitality – welcoming every guest with warmth, generosity and respect. Rooted in centuries of Turkish tradition, we honour the past while pushing beyond it, drawing on our experience to create a culinary world without borders. Working at Gül means striving for excellence. It is precise, skilful and demanding – at times even obsessive. It is also vibrant, creative and full of energy. We look for people with solid experience, but even more importantly, with passion, drive and the determination to make a difference.
